

The ACSF Director Search Committee cordially invites you to attend the research presentation of

ACSF Director Candidate
Claire Kremen

"Pollinators as a 'poster child' for diversified farming systems"

Thursday, April 16 at 4:30 pm
B09 Sage Hall

Claire Kremen is Professor of Arthropod Biodiversity, Department of Environmental Science, Policy, and Management; Faculty Co-Director, Berkeley Food Institute; Faculty Director, Center for Diversified Farming Systems; University of California–Berkeley

Visit www.acsf.cornell.edu/director-search for the finalists' latest schedule and venue information